Bio

Singer-song writer Jennifer Dunston's soulful and charismatic voice has gained her great notoriety among her peers within the music industry. Her love for music was formed while singing in a children's choir in her home town of Providence, Rhode Island. As a teen, Jennifer relocated to Zebulon, North Carolina where she honed her musical skills by writing songs and performing at local events. From that point forward, she quickly realized that music was not only her passion...it was her destiny!

Jennifer's musical style is full of depth and range. Her artistic repertoire personifies all genres of music; ranging from inspirational to R&B and Pop. She performs for public and private gigs and sings with the international band, Sound Connection. Ms. Dunston has graced the stage with talented bands such as the Marcus Mitchell Project and Vision Band. Jennifer's talents paved the way for her to appear at the legendary Apollo Theatre and on Sean Combs hit series, "Making The Band 3"... leaving the viewers mesmerized by her stunning voice! Her career highlights also include collaborating with AJ Alexander (discoverer of Usher Raymond) and opening for Grammy Award winning Chris Brown!

Charity is a major component of Jennifer's core purpose in life. She enjoys inspiring others through song, by performing at benefit concerts and spending quality time with troubled teens. In addition to her music career and helping others, Ms. Dunston also models. She has appeared in magazines such as Black Hair and Salon Profiles. She was the cover girl of the 2014 RIPPED Janes calendar and appeared in commercial advertisements for Diva's Delight and Outskin Boutique. Elite Model Management showed a tremendous interest in Jennifer; however, chose to pursue her "first love"...music! While the opportunity for modeling approached Jennifer at an early age, through hard work and dedication, she now realizes that she can achieve her dreams in music or modeling; and welcomes the opportunity for both.

Ms. Dunston's upcoming album, entitled, "Get to Know Me", is set to be released later this year! On this album Jennifer showcases her talent and range, taking your ears on a smooth and sultry journey while highlighting her strong and powerful vocals.
